Avoid Pet Scams

NEVER

- Respond to email/text only pet offers
- Respond to out-of-state offers
- Purchase pets from someone promising a free pet for the cost of shipping
- Send or wire money to people you have never met
- Purchase a puppy with the promise of getting the registration certificate later

ALWAYS

- Do a web search for the contact information and pictures of pet to see if the information is being used by someone else or has bad reviews
- Request/check references
- Verify parents' registration with the appropriate kennel club on pedigreed pets

WATCH OUT

- If a local telephone number is used and forwards to an out-of-state telephone number
- Avoid discounted prices for purebreds that appear "too good to be true"
- If you are told there will be no refund under any circumstances

If you have been a victim of a pet scam from an ad in our paper, in addition to notifying The Greensheet, please contact the below appropriate organization to also file an official complaint:
