Keeping it Weird

Although Austin has been keeping itself weird for decades, this is the festival to celebrate the city's unique culture. So think of the Keep Austin Weird Fest + 5K as the ultimate celebration and toast to Austin—to what it is, to what it's becoming and to what it will always be, WEIRD. This summer, Keep Austin Weird Fest and 5K will take place in Downtown Austin. Come by for a day of live music (what kind of Austin festivity wouldn't include music?), local food vendors, and plenty of attractions. Expect people to come dressed up; regular clothes will be considered out of the norm at this event.

As the hot summer day starts to cool off, festival attendees take a detour from the festival to meander through downtown as part of a one-of-a-kind 5K that's all about fun. This is the Slowest 5K on the Planet! Slip into your weirdest costume, slap on your favorite light up running shoes, and throw your timer into Lady Bird Lake! We've put 10 outrageous Fun Stops on this year's course. Bring your friends for the wildest, weirdest, and most memorable

Saturday of summer! When the race is complete, participants return to the Long Center to continue the all-things-Austin celebration.

Just like every other year, music at the festival will include the best local artists across a variety of genres. The tunes will get going at 3:30 pm and go all day until 10 pm that evening. The 2016 band line-up includes Quiet Company, Sweet Spirit, Cilantro Boombox, and Walking Fable.

Bizarre oddities will be abundant at this year's fest! We're introducing The Keep Austin Weird Sideshow. From a big toe wrestling contest to a smelly chamber, The Sideshow is a bevy of ridiculously eccentric activities you'll only find at the Keep Austin Weird Fest and 5K. With events like armadillo races, the smelly chamber and the gummy bat spiting game you'll never run out of fun things to do at this festival.
